MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty,
who are troubled with too frequent of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system to a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits aropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear. The color will be a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. This is the case of many men who die of this difficulty. Important of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will

A BATHING RESORT.

Nevada people exult to Tahoe, Alameda, Santa Cruz and Monterey, for the purpose of bathing during the Summer season. Just now the heated term is upon us and attention of the citizens of Reno is directed to unused opportunities presented at home, entailing a financial loss, as well as preventing an observance of sanitary regulations requisite for the peace of both body and mind. By the expenditure of an insignificant sum of money Reno could provide bathing accommodations equal to any on the coast, which would attract the people of other towns, and be a blessing to all at home. Platforms and dressing rooms should be built alongside the Truckee, suits should be provided, and hundreds would avail themselves of the delightful sport of swimming in pure running water which is now warmed by the sun's rays, and in every respect suitable for the purpose. If this can not be done by individual effort, a joint stock company might be formed, and we are sure the investment would be a paying one. Reno's climate is the healthiest in the world, and with its advantages this place can be made a favorite summer resort.

Tilden Willing to Enter the Presidential Race.

An old and valued friend of Samuel J. Tilden in an interview, says: "I am satisfied that Tilden views his public career as a matter so absolutely in control of the public decision that he will tacitly abide by it in the event of a renomination. In regard to the idea of excessive strain upon his physical condition, he has been fully prepared for any contingency of this kind, not merely by his rapid restoration to health and vigor, but by his changed relations to such a campaign, should it occur. At one time, not long since, even his immediate followers abandoned the idea of his further leadership and went to seek their fortunes in other directions. Many of them are now somewhat alarmed at the prospect of his renomination, as they have set up for themselves or joined adverse interests, but that Tilden will respond in the affirmative to a proper demand by the party and the people there is not a particle of doubt. It is also his positive conviction that the time, opportunity and necessity for his identity with a movement for the nomination of a ticket which was elected by the people, but denied by their tribunals in 1876, is now at hand. The recent course of Hendricks has, perhaps, given this idea more positive vitality than it seemed to have a few months ago."

Half a Century Hence.

"If the various countries maintain their present rate of increase," says Mr. Gosselin, Secretary of Embassy at Berlin, "fifty years hence the United States will have a population of 100,000,000, Russia approximately 163,000,000, Germany 83,000,000, the United Kingdom 63,000,000, Austria-Hungary and Italy both 44,000,000, France only 40,000,000. Germany has already in round numbers 7,500,000 more inhabitants than France, but in this reckoning Algeria is not taken into account." For war purposes, however, it is observed that the balance is not so heavily against France, for whereas in Germany there are only 965 males to every 1,000 females, in France there are 991. Germany has, therefore, only 3,500,000 more men than France.

Three and Two Cent Stamps.

The postal revenue already shows, by anticipation, the effect of the reduction of letter postage which goes into effect October 1st. People are ordering as close as possible, in order to have stock on hand when the time comes, as no arrangement for the redemption of three cent stamps is yet made. The consequence is a reduction in the sale of threes and an increase in the sale of twos. The probabilities are that the Postal Department will decide to convert the threes in the hands of the people, October 1st, into twos.

CHEAP ORE CRUSHING.—Custom lots of ten tons or more of quartz will hereafter be worked at the Pittsburg mill, near Nevada City, California, for $2 per ton. This certainly should induce prospectors to look about for quartz veins. The Enterprise truly says that could we get crushing done for that money in this State, we could furnish millions on millions of tons of ore in every district in the State.

Grand Secretary Katzenstein of California received, recently, by express, from Antioch, a loaf of bread containing three twenty-dollar gold pieces for the Orphans Home fund. The loaf was old and "heavy."

From Tahoe.

A correspondent of the Call says: "It is curious fact that Lake Tahoe has never, until this season, been considered with any favor as a bathing place. Within a month, however, there has been a boom in the matter, and bathing houses are going up on all sides, and hotel windows, in early morning, are made beautiful with the outgushing gaudy bathing suits drying in the sun. Since the advent of the new private screw steamer Meteor, which runs twenty miles an hour, the dreadful slowness of the old passenger steamer Governor Stanford has been more pronounced, and the wheezy old invalid is now upon the puffy rounds of its last season. This Winter a splendid new fast iron steamer will be taken to the lake and put together in time for next season's travel. It is reported that several new and large hotels will be built at available points, as soon as the projectors have any assurance from the State that the lake is to be reserved as a pleasure and health resort."

Mediterranean Canal.

A Company has been organized in England whose object it is by means of a canal to unite the Mediterranean Sea and the Gulf of Akabah, the eastern arm of the upper waters of the Red Sea. A great trench is to be hollowed out from Haifa, in the Bay of Acre, through the plain of Asdraelon to the valley of the Jordan, tapping the Lake of Galilee. The course of the river will be diverted further down for the sake of converting Jericho and Jerusalem, and possibly Bethlehem as well, into salt water ports, or half-way houses on the canal. Beyond the Dead Sea lies a desolate region seldom traversed by European travellers, through which a canal will have to be cut to the Gulf of Akabah. The entire water route from sea to sea, including Lot's great salt marsh, or bitter lake, will measure 200 miles, and varying in width from 200 feet to 10 miles, will float vessels of the largest size from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea. Imagine steamers on the Lake of Galilee and on the Dead Sea!

Destructive Fire at Belleville.

A fire broke out about two o'clock Saturday morning, which destroyed about half the business portion of Belleville. It originated in R. Abram's store and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express office. The cause is unknown. The losses are as follows: N. Turcott, saloon, $1,500, insurance $800; R. Abram, store, between $25,000 and $30,000, insurance between $12,000 and $14,000; C. R. Edwards, hardware, $4,000, partially insured; Fenton & Co., restaurant, $15,000, insurance $12,000; J. A. Jackson, saloon, $2,500 no insurance; D. Simpson, rented restaurant, $600, no insurance, contents saved; also one or two vacant buildings, loss unknown. The fire was extinguished only by prompt action on the part of the citizens in the use of water and wet blankets. If the fire had continued one building farther not a business house in town could have been saved.

A Mining Suit.

An action was brought in the District Court at Eureka last Friday, by the original vendors of the Christie mine, of Mineral Hill, against some of the purchasers, who are Eastern capitalists, for $30,000, and interest from January, 1883. Recently an ore body was developed in the mine, and as payment for the property was not made according to agreement the former owners are endeavoring to recover their claims. Another suit was brought against the company Saturday for $1,700.

The President's Jaunt.

The Presidential party will leave Rawlins, on the Union Pacific, August 3d. The party will consist of President Arthur, Governor Crosby, of Montana, Secretary Lincoln, Gen. Sheridan, Chancellor Rollins, of New York, and Senator Vest. They will travel over the mountains in Wyoming to the Yellowstone Park, and return East over the Northern Pacific.

"Tom Thumb" died at Middleboro, Connecticut, Sunday. Deceased, whose true name was Charles Heyward Stratton, was born at Bridgeport, Connecticut, January 4th, 1838. At the age of 14 he entered the service of P. T. Barnum, and ever since then has been before the public. He leaves a widow who has been on the stage with him since their marriage in 1863.

Hope for Drunkards.

My husband had drunken habits he could not overcome until Parker's Ginger Tonic took away his thirst for stimulants, restored his energy of mind and gave him strength to attend to business. —Cincinnati Lady.

The most healthy and popular drink of the season is the ice cold soda water, sparkling with purest gas and flavored with true, delicious fruit syrups, to be had only at Queen's soda fountain. *

THE TEMPERANCE QUESTION.

[Carson Tribune.]

There never was a subject which tended to the amelioration of the woes of mankind that was more foolishly handled in public than the temperance question, but it would appear that a new system of reforms has commenced, and that temperance will be referred to in the pulpit and on the rostrum as any other subject should be by rational men and women.

The Good Book advocates temperance in all things, but says "take a little wine for thy stomach's sake." It also advocates temperance in eating and in action with our fellow men, and that is the doctrine the new temperance system takes up and advocates. It is true enough that a man who becomes the slave of appetite for spirituous liquor is seldom or ever reclaimed, and any institution, religious or secular, that can by persuasion or other means cause the reformation of such a one, is entitled to the praise of all right thinking people.

We know from experience that the habit of dram drinking is an evil and an insidious one, and once indulged in becomes almost necessary to a man. We know that some of the brightest men indulge heavily in the use of strong drinks and that the aristocratic ladies of the land as well as those of the lowest and most ignorant class are inebriated; the first named sleeping off their potations in their boudoirs and the latter in the gutter or hovel, and so to women of right belongs the task of reforming drunkards of both sexes for there is that in the persuasive power of women that can tame the stoutest and most rebellious spirit of the other sex, and so with joy we learn that the ladies of Carson have determined to institute a reform society.

How many men who commenced with the social glass became drunkards through the evil tempers of their wives, once can tell, but they number millions, whereas, had the wives taken the matter kindly and used the persuasion women understand, such men might have been saved from a drunkard's grave. Think of it, wives and mothers, and in your labor in the temperance cause do not follow the denunciatory course of the old fashioned temperance lecturers, but draw converts to your cause by the cords of self and family respect.

The Growing Temperance Sentiment.

In England no less than in this country, there has for several years past been a growing sentiment in favor of temperance in the use of intoxicating liquors. As the London Standard expresses it, "for the first time in the history of this country, intoxication, irrespective of the social level on which it may be seen, carries with it a lasting stigma. The whole tendency of the day," it adds, "is opposed to excessive drinking."

The House of Commons last week gave a majority in favor of Sir Wilfrid Lawson's Local Option resolution, and that is a very significant step. It furnishes another proof of the increased favor in which the temperance movement is held in England, where once the few temperance agitators were treated with ridicule by all classes. Now, however, even actual teetotallers begin to be numerous among the most intelligent men, and in the more cultivated society the quantity of wine and spirituous liquors used has much decreased as compared with the past.

The same tendency to abstinence or moderation is observable here, and among the people who were never influenced by the wild temperance agitators who treated the drinking of anything alcoholic as a veritable sin against God. The duds, of whom we hear so much in these days, is a very slight consumer of alcohol. In fact, abstinence from excess in the expression of notion and of ideas, in dress and in zeal, as well as in eating and drinking, is necessary to the maintenance of the character. The duds must be moderate in all things, even to the total sacrifice of spontaneity.

But men of more virile ambitions are not less abstemious about the use of alcoholic beverage in these days—men of leisure, men of business, professional men and workmen, we are glad to say. As it is in England, so it is here. Drunkenness is not regarded as the pardonable offense it was once held to be. It degrades a man, and casts doubt on his trustworthiness both socially and in a business sense.

And the people of this city, for instance, were never so prepared as now to sustain a sensible and practical movement for the regulation of the sale of spirituous liquors so as to protect the general welfare. The great majority of the population would gladly see the number of rum shops reduced and the political power of the rum seller lessened.

The most hopeful temperance movement which has ever taken place is now quietly in progress in both England and America, for it is based on good sense—on the growing conviction that alcohol is dangerous stuff to muddle with. —N. Y. Sun.

MOWERS, REAPERS, FARMING IMPLEMENTS.

With all the appliances of a stock and grain farm to be included in the sale.

The Whole Ranch Comprising One Hundred and Six Thousand Acres.

CONTROLLING TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND ACRES.

THE CLOVER VALLEY RANCH, OR, as it is sometimes known, "The Iron Point Stock and Grain Ranch," Nevada, embracing one hundred and six thousand acres of land, is now offered for sale upon terms which represent a liberal concession to the purchaser, and offers high inducements in the way of a safe, permanent and profitable investment.

With this ranch will be sold four thousand head of stock cattle, now in splendid condition, embracing thoroughbred Durham bulls, purchased at a cost of six hundred dollars each. The entire herd is composed of grades produced by crossing the best American cows with the very best thoroughbred Durham bulls over imported to this country. There are no inferior animals in the herd; no Spanish cattle or crosses from Spanish cattle. These ranches embrace six thousand acres of meadow land, which will produce about five thousand tons of hay per annum. There are two hundred and forty acres of fine alfalfa under irrigation, capable of producing twelve hundred and fifty tons of hay per annum. Twenty-eight thousand acres of this ranch is now under fence, redwood posts set sixteen feet apart, with four foot rails, neatly built. Buildings attached to the ranch consist of one good one story and a half house, with four rooms, a stone cellar, and stone dairy house, well built. Horse barn forty by one hundred feet with stalls for thirty horses. There is a splendid creek of living water running through the ranch; also, an excellent well of water with two or three springs. Inside the enclosure there are two springs from which issue about twenty-five hundred inches of water, sufficient to irrigate twenty-five hundred acres of land which lie below them, and which may be subjected to irrigation at but little cost. Included in this sale there are two thousand acres of fine agricultural and meadow land, about seven miles northeast of the ranch buildings, upon which there are one hundred and twenty acres in alfalfa finely growing. This is a fine grain ranch, and will produce forty to fifty bushels of barley per acre per annum. There is a good orchard in bearing, and a live stream of water affording abundance of trout. About four hundred acres of this small ranch is under fence. The vendors of these ranches own and control the water rights indispensable to the use of two hundred and fifty thousand acres of land for grazing. There is sufficient water to irrigate twenty-four thousand acres in the lower ranch, and one thousand in the upper, making a total of thirty-four thousand acres.

The sale will include eighty-four head of good American horses, fifty of which are large fine brood mares, the remainder being saddle horses, well trained for herding cattle and well broken work horses; also, there will be included in this sale grain headers, eight mowing machines, barrows and all farming implements necessary to run this ranch. Six years ago this ranch was purchased throughout the year about forty thousand head of cattle. The ranch was injured by being overstocked, and the stock was sold. The owner of this ranch selling twelve thousand head. After a rest of six years the ranch was reoccupied and is now as good as when in its primitive condition. The four thousand head of cattle now offered for sale are the progeny of well-selected cows from the best dairy herds in California and Nevada. They have increased to their present numbers very rapidly. Eight hundred calves will be produced in 1883, and estimating upon the basis of the past experience of increase the herd will within a few years be increased by one-half. The ranch is capable of supporting, without being overstocked, twenty-five thousand head, and the present herd may be increased to that number without selling other range than that now proposed to be sold.

The Clover Valley ranches embrace: Township 38 north, ranges 41, 42, 43, 44, east; township 37 north, ranges 42, 43, 44 east; township 38 north, range 43, east; township 38 north, range 43 east—Mount Diablo meridian.

The title based upon patents from the United States will be given to one hundred and six thousand acres of land, commanding about one hundred fifty thousand and additional acres, to which the ownership of this land now offered for sale is a perfect key. The present value of the property is estimated to be worth four hundred and twenty-eight thousand dollars. The whole is offered for sale at one hundred thousand dollars, of which one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars must be paid in cash, one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars in six years. Deferred payments to bear seven percent interest per annum.

The cattle and horses will be sold by actual count. If the head fall short of our thousand head of cattle, or eighty-four head of horses, a pro rata amount for the shortage will be deducted from the total purchase price.

Reference is had to ALVARO EVANS, capitalist, of Reno, and R. L. FULTON, RENO GAZETTE, Reno, for verification of the representation set forth above. Inspection of the stock, lands and other property is solicited.

The many friends of Rev. William Lucas will be glad to hear that his arrival is expected Thursday morning, and that Trinity Church will be reopened for divine services next Sunday.

The County Assessor has turned in to the Treasury $1,200 on account of poll taxes collected this month. The revenue derived from that source he thinks will equal that of last year, which does not indicate a falling off in population.

The small wooden building on the east side of Virginia Street, known as Dural's Saloon was sold at auction last Saturday for $292. The building stands on rented ground. The party who made the purchase will refit it and continue the same line of business.

OLD DAYS IN NEVADA.

A Reminiscence of the Flour Riots in Virginia City—Flour $150 a sack.

"Flour—XX, per 100 lbs $3; XXX $3 @ $3 50; XXXX, $4.—[Holena Flour Quotations, July 5, 1888.]

An old-timer who noticed the above in the market report, published in the Weekly Independent, was reminded thereby of the great contrast between the prices of flour now and those at a certain period in the history of Virginia City. The time referred to was in the spring of 1865. The preceding winter had been one of remarkable deep snow and cold weather. The "Chinook winds" were frozen out, or at least did not cross the range into Montana. Along toward the spring of 1865 freighting was almost entirely suspended between Salt Lake and Virginia City, the snow lying so deep in the Snake river range that it was almost impossible for the heavily laden trains to cross. One large flour train arrived at the foot of the Snake river divide, but the snow was deep, the cold intense, and the oxen could find no grass and perished by the dozen. In the meantime provisions were getting scarcer and scarcer in Virginia; flour was hoarded like gold dust, and was almost as precious; potatoes, beans, and all substitutes for flour were almost exhausted, and a large number of people were already living upon "beef straight." Potatoes were very scarce, at 25 cents per pound, and all other provisions were held at proportionately high prices. The latter part of February 1865, saw the first big rise in flour. The price jumped from $25 per 100 to $40, and KEPT CLIMBING UPWARD, Until $100 per sack in gold was asked. For a few days the price stood at the above figures, when it began raising again, and kept steadily on, hour by hour, until $150 was demanded for 100 pounds. There was no fixed price, the value fluctuating according as rumors of abundance or the opposite gained currency, while a portion of the time not a pound could be had for love or money. The price was already beyond the reach of a great majority of people; the streets were thronged by anxious men, and deep mutterings were heard against the parties who had gotten up the "flour corner." A few days after the last rise word was sent up and down Alder gulch that the citizens were going to rise against the flour dealers. The crowd organized in Leviathan Hall, S. R. Blake being chairman. Hugh McQuade was nominated for secretary, but declined. A flour sack nailed to a pole was their banner, and they marched up and down Wallace street. Some of the rioters had an idea that the uprising meant the sacking of the city. Three men entered the clothing store on Content's corner, and each began picking out a suit of clothes, remarking at the same time that they would take anything they wanted in the town. A messenger was sent Neil Howie, one of the chiefs of the Vigilance Committee. Neil entered the store, drew his revolver and remarked: "Gentlemen, this uprising is to get flour and pay a reasonable price for it; it is not to sack the town. The first man that steals from a store or saloon will be shot or hanged. The same men that fought for law and order a few months ago are prepared to fight for it now." The ready made clothing was dropped, and word was passed through the dense crowds that INSTANT DEATH WOULD BE THE PORTION OF THE FIRST RIOTER CAUGHT IN THE ACT. Colonel W. F. Sanders and others addressed the crowd, advising an orderly search for flour, and standing in with the men in all that was right and fair. Search parties were organized, and darted off in different directions to hunt in stores and cellars for hidden flour. The rumor was passed around that a wagon loaded with flour had gone to Colonel Sander's residence. An armed party immediately went to the house and were met at the door by Mrs. Sanders, who invited them to search the house, and if they found more than a pan of flour they were welcome to it. The party left, but returned next day, when Mrs. S. was in town trying to purchase a few pounds of flour, and searched for hidden sacks in vain. Other houses were visited by the searchers, and when more than one sack was found it was taken. Guards watched the town day and night to see that no flour was hauled away, and a couple of loaded wagons were overhauled and taken back to Virginia.

Taylor, Thompson & Co., who had a supply on hand, barricaded their door, piled the flour up in front and placed men behind the sacks, armed with double-barrelled shotguns. Other stores barricaded, but the patrols moved quietly, and steadily along, saying they desired no trouble, but MUST HAVE FLOUR. The flour was gathered from all parts of the city and stored in an immense building known as Leviathan Hall. The hiding places were unique and various—in cellars, under floors and haystacks, but the searchers were hungry and keen, and very little flour escaped save sacks held by families. The price allowed the owners was $38 per hundred, which was considered a fair profit. After the flour was all gathered in a committee was appointed and it was decided to allow eighteen pounds to the man so long as the flour held out, the price to be the same as that paid the owners. Men with sacks in their hands formed in line and received their portion. After a few hours the amount was reduced to ten pounds per man, but the supply was exhausted long before the end of the hungry line was reached. Some of the men paid heavy prices for their few pounds of flour. A sack of gold would be handed in to the weigher, but the rush was so great that no time was taken for accurate weighing, and the man who walked away with ten pounds of flour also carried a purse that was considerably shrunken after passing through the weigher's hands. For three days the white flag waved and the mob held possession of the town, but to their credit be said, there was no disturbance whatever, and nothing taken save flour. A party of men with pack horses started for the Snake river range to shovel a trail through the snow and reach the flour train, if possible; but the snow was too deep, and they returned discouraged. As the supply became scarcer miners shared their hoarded flour with women and children who were less fortunate; but a great number of men outside of Virginia City lived for weeks upon beef alone, and at one time fears of starvation were expressed. But the snow melted early and at last the joyous news was shouted through the streets of Virginia City that a flour train was slowly wheeling up Alder Gulch. In the early Spring days, when the price finally dropped to $40 per sack, it was thought to be as cheap as dirt.

Not Entirely Clear.

Judge Edwards has ordered the Combs case transferred to Washoe for trial. Of course the expense of the trial will be paid by Ormsby county, but the law makes it the duty of all officers to collect fees in advance, and are liable on their bond for all fees not so collected and turned into the Treasury. Worse still, they are liable to be proceeded against criminally for any neglect of this duty. The officers are not quite clear as to the proper way to proceed in the matter. It is a State case in which they are not supposed to charge fees, salaries covering all such services. If they do not charge fees Washoe cannot collect from Ormsby, and if they do then the law makes it their duty to collect in advance and pay it over to the Treasurer. No one doubts Ormsby's ability or willingness to pay, but what troubles the officers most is whether it is their duty under the circumstances to require of Ormsby county a deposit in advance.

A Close Call.

Mr. P. Brown, the butcher at Pollard's meat market, met with an accident at the slaughter house last Saturday that came within an ace of costing him his life. While busily engaged at his work a large piece of timber called a gambrel, weighing 20 pounds, fell a distance of 12 feet striking him on the head, cutting the flesh to the bone, and it is feared caused a slight fracture of the skull. The blow knocked him senseless as might be supposed, and he was carried home more dead than alive. He recovered, however, after the wound was dressed and is able to be around.

Teachers Selected.

The Trustees of the Reno Public School have made the following selection of teachers for the coming school year: Principal, Prof. J. G. Foster; Assistants: Miss J. E. Brown, Mrs. C. Hale, Mrs. Knowlton, Stenzo Webb, Miss Frankie Grippen, Miss Effie McNeely, Miss Sarah Wilson, Miss Minnie Gibbs. There is one vacancy in the high school not yet filled, for which the Trustees are endeavoring to find a thorough teacher in mathematics, and the place will be held open until the proper person is found.

Married.

J. W. Parker, chief draftsman in the U. S. Surveyor General's office, was married Sunday evening to Miss Nettie Knox, daughter of H. L. W. Knox. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Hatch at the Lake House parlors in the presence of a large number of friends. The presents were numerous and costly. The happy couple left on a wedding tour to Tahoe and other points of interest in California yesterday morning. The JOURNAL acknowledges the usual compliments of cake, etc.

Conclave Rates.

Round trip tickets between Reno and San Francisco will be $22 35. They will be placed on sale on August 13th, and will be good until October 31st. This information is furnished by W. D. Phillips, the accommodating ticket agent at this station.

Your Dinner.

One of the most important considerations with every man is his dinner. It will be gratifying to searchers after that which is good to know that the Palace Restaurant will set an unusually good one to-day. Private apartments for family parties.

Over the River.

John Wilson and Thos. Desmond were up before Judge Young yesterday for selling whisky to Indians. They entered a plea of not guilty and demanded a jury trial. The case came up at 2 o'clock, and after hearing the testimony the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. The Justice fined them $60 each, and not having the requisite funds with which to liquidate, will accept the hospitalities of Sheriff Emmitt for thirty days. By that time harvest will be over and the boys can rustle around without danger of finding employment.

A Dangerous Practice.

It is a common habit in some households to leave coal oil lamps burning all night. This may not be known is a practice fraught with much danger during the hot weather. In a close room the vapors from an ignited lamp become in themselves explosive, where the temperature of the room exceeds 90 degrees, and numerous mysterious fires doubtless owe their origin to this cause.

Sudden Illness.

J. R. Garcia, an engineer on the C. P. was taken suddenly ill Friday, and telegraphed for his wife at Truckee. Mrs. Garcia came down on an extra and found her husband not so dangerously ill as expected. He was able to accompany his wife to Truckee Sunday morning, and it is thought that a few days rest will bring him out all right.

Forty Volumes of Local History.

At the Recorder's office there are forty handsomely bound volumes of Washoe county papers, including the old Eastern Slope, Washoe Times, Crescent, Nevada State Journal, Reno Gazette, Record, Times and Plaindealer. These books furnish an invaluable history of the county from its organization to the present time.

Temperance Lecture.

Mrs. Maria Ballard Holyoke, formerly a commissioned lecturer for the W. C. T. U., will lecture on Temperance at the Baptist Church on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, July 17th and 18th, at half past seven o'clock. The Methodist Church bell will indicate the time of meeting.

SAN FRANCISCO,

Manufacture and have constantly on hand

SPORTING.

MINING,

and BLASTING

POWDER

Of superior quality, fresh from the mills. It is being constantly received and transported into the interior, is delivered to the consumer within a few days of the time of its manufacture, and is in every way

Superior to Any Other Powder

In market. We have been awarded successfully

Three Gold Medals!

At the MECHANICS' INSTITUTE and the STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the superiority of our products over all others. We call attention to our

Hercules Powder,

Which combines all the force of other strong explosives now in use, and the lifting force of the very

BEST BLASTING POWDER

Thus making it vastly superior to any other compound now in use.

Circular containing a full description of this Powder can be obtained on application at the office or of any of our Agents.
